LOCAL NEWS.

HOUSE TO RENT.—Apply to G. S. Van Wagenen.

Go to G. S. Van Wagenen's for over coats and blankets.

Mrs. Anna Welch returned from Mesa on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. G. Latimer came up from Armer on Tuesday and returned the following day.

The fees of indigent witnesses and special attorneys fees, together with interpreters fees for this term of court does not exceed $100.

A. J. Howell, of Tonto, the Republican candidate for the Council, spent the week here, getting better acquainted with the people of Globe. He is a pleasant gentleman.

The Mesa Free Press says that Chuck Rogers and Jim Smith have located a fine granite quarry up the river. They can supply the very finest quality of granite in any desirable quantity.

Geo. E. Shute came up from the river on Tuesday. He reports great improvement to the range by the recent rains. Grass is growing finely and cattle may pull through the winter without serious loss.

Mr. Tustin and J. C. Stout, mining men from the East, returned on Tuesday from northern Gila county where they examined a gold claim with which they were very well impressed, and a sale is likely to result. The gentlemen left Wednesday morning for the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Blevins returned on Tuesday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Tucker, in the Sierra Ancha. They enjoyed the outing very much, and Floyd proved himself almost as successful a hunter as he is a sharpshooter, having killed five deer and a bear.

J. W. Frakes, of Phoenix, arrived last Saturday, and remained until Monday, renewing old acquaintances. There is not an old timer here who does not know him and appreciate his many good qualities. Mr. Frakes has prospered in the capital city, and we hope that fortune may continue to smile upon him.

O. C. Fulton came in Tuesday from Tempe, where he is now living. He reports a much better feeling there among stockmen and farmers since the late rains, which filled all the canals and ditches. Cattle are in demand and advancing, two cents being the ruling price for ordinary range cattle, while fat beefs will command more.

J. I. Coffin, whose ranch is on Salt River, near the line of Gila and Maricopa counties, and who claimed residence in Maricopa, was summoned to Globe as a juror, but upon his representation that his residence was in Maricopa county, he was excused by the Judge. Although we can no longer claim him as one of us, yet his many friends here will always be pleased to have him visit Globe.

The court adjourned to the 26th instant for the purpose of trying a murder case and a perjury case. The parties were not ready for trial at present, on account of the sickness of some of the witnesses. The special term will be held at the time fixed, so that the delay will not require the accused to remain in jail until the regular term, and that if the parties are guilty they may be specially dealt with, and if not guilty, may be discharged.

Mrs. John Murphy, nee Estay Fagout, died shortly after eleven o'clock last night, after a brief illness, the symptoms indicating typhoid fever. A week ago she mingled with her friends, apparently in good health, and her sudden demise was a rude shock to them. The deceased was a lady of many estimable qualities and beloved by all who knew her. The greatest sympathy is expressed for the bereaved husband who is almost distracted with grief. The funeral takes place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from the family residence.

The special term of the District Court for Gila County will convene Nov. 20, 1894.

OSCAR FOILED.

Oscar Rogers, late of Globe, who was recently captured after a hard chase, and restrained of his liberty in the Pima county jail on the charge of train robbing, has gained additional notoriety. The term of court, at Florence, drawing nigh, at which he will be required to answer for the dire offense, his anchored hope of a happy deliverance withered and deeming it unsafe to trust to the quidities of the law, he concluded to dig out.

He had been working for two or three days on a hole in the brick wall, and unknown to him, the guards have been watching him for that time, says the Citizen.

He is a genius in the art of jail breaking. The hole started is just above the wainscoting, and back of the closet door. By hanging a clothes line with the garments in front of the place, and standing behind the door, only his feet could be seen. He used a piece of wire to pry out the mortar around the bricks. The bricks removed were concealed in his cell and a neighboring cell. Over the hole at night, he was pasted a picture. He was enabled to work in the daytime by his barricade, and it was by his feet showing under his mysterious actions that Guard Martiney saw him.

The smartness of the prisoner did not stop at a hole in the wall. The hinges of his cell door are hung on pins. When the cell is closed and locked, the door cannot be lifted from them. By watching his opportunity, the prisoner broke off the pins, one at a time, using the door as a lever. This shortened the pins so the door would hang, but could be lifted free. He then planned to have the hole completed Friday night, or nearly, and when the guards chinged, at 1 o'clock, one going up stairs to wake the other, he would lift the cell door, clear the hole a little bigger, climb out feet first and drop right feet to the ground. Then he would mount a horse in waiting, what he described as "one of the best horses Arizona," and get away.

The guards were vigilant, however, and he found out that his scheme was foiled.

F. H. Springer has received a consignment of General Arthur cigars, a brand that is favorably known throughout the United States, and for which he has the agency for Globe. He is also agent for the San Francisco Examiner and Chronicle, and carries a variety of periodicals and light literature. He will receive, within a few days, a choice lot of novels, the latest publications.

The larceny of stock on the range by those who have heretofore made a business of it, will no longer be regarded as a picnic, since the October term of the district court of Gila county has visited upon offenders dire punishment. Henry Blevins just now is awaiting transportation to the Territorial prison, where his incarceration will only terminate in 1903, and where he will be furnished beef without cost to himself. He, however, will not be considered a deadhead. Labor will be exacted of him as a reciprocal compensation.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Walker returned several days ago from a visit to Salt River, where they enjoyed themselves shooting, and visiting the cave dwellings and other points of interest in the valley. Mrs. Walker is reported as a nimrod, having killed seventeen birds in two shots.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Ex-Governor Murphy and Gen'l

A. J. Sampson Address the People of Globe.

A Successful Meeting.

An immense audience assembled in the Rink last Saturday evening to hear what Gov. Murphy had to say for himself. They had heard so much of his alleged misdeeds, and especially of his assault upon the Territorial treasury, while chairman of Loan Commission, that they wondered what manner of man he was and whether he could say anything to refute the charges brought against him by the Democratic party. Mr. Murphy could not have asked for a better opportunity to set himself right before the people of Globe, and that he made good use of it is generally admitted.

Mills Van Wagenen, as chairman of the meeting, introduced the speakers. Mr. Murphy's speech was brief but none the less effective. It was devoted chiefly to Territorial affairs—the Loan Commission, finances, silver, statehood, the wool and cattle industries and irrigation. Mr. Murphy made a strong defense of the acts of the Loan Commission. He stated that by the sale of $1,500,000 bonds at par, he had saved the Territory $45,000 annually in interest and had materially strengthened Arizona's credit in the East. He had also negotiated $500,000 additional bonds, but owing to his retirement from office, the bonds were not delivered, and the present administration had failed to consummate the sale.

He maintained that the expenses of the Loan Commission were not exorbitant (and the report of the committee of the last legislature which investigated the Loan Commission substantiates Mr. Murphy) and he denied that he had received a dollar illegally in that connection. He had no apology to make. The results speak for themselves. Mr. Murphy was very hoarse and spoke with much difficulty, but he managed to make himself heard in all parts of the hall, and his speech was well received.

Gen'l A. J. Sampson, the orator of the evening, followed with a two hours' speech, and held the attention of the audience throughout, and won frequent applause. He is a clear, forcible talker and marshals his arguments with much ability. He spoke chiefly upon the tariff question, and a stronger presentation of the protectionist side of the question is seldom heard.

At the conclusion of Mr. Sampson's speech, the floor was cleared for dancing, and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by the many who remained.

The success of the meeting is largely due to the members of the County Central Committee and the few others who took an active part in the arrangements. The explosion of giant powder, a big bonfire and martial music were all provided and enlivened the occasion. It is safe to say that Messrs. Murphy and Sampson were nowhere more cordially received than in Globe.

The rumor is being circulated, for the purpose of injuring me in the present political canvass, that I have promised to employ certain persons as deputies, in the event of my election as Sheriff.

I desire to state to the electors of Gila county, that the report is false. I am pledged to no one, and, moreover, the only promise I will make is to the people of Gila county as a community, that, if elected, I will employ none but competent and trustworthy deputies, and will endeavor, to the best of my ability, to give them a clean, honest and vigorous administration of the office of sheriff, without fear or favor.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH REDMAN,
Republican nominee for Sheriff.

J. W. Horrell, an old resident of Gila county, died on Monday, Oct. 29, at the family residence four miles north of Globe. He had been an invalid for years and of late had failed rapidly, but his death was a surprise, nevertheless, to many friends of the family here. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon and the remains were interred with appropriate religious ceremony, in the presence of the sorrowing relatives and friends.

The Grand Jury examined into sixteen cases, and found nine true bills, as follows: Murder, 1; grand larceny, 2; perjury, 2; felony, 1; burglary, 1; robbery, 2. Five cases were dismissed, and two referred to the next Grand Jury.

Messrs. E. J. Edwards, P. T. Robertson and Wm. Rolling, Democratic candidates, accompanied by a party of ladies and gentlemen, have gone to Salt River, where a political meeting will be held this evening.

The Gazette announces the departure of Mrs. Fred Riley from Goldfields for Flagstaff, where she will join her husband.

CHARLES HOTZMAN, Sec.

THE POPULIST MEETING.

Hon. G. W. Woy Advocates the Peoples Cause.

The Populists of Globe had their inning on Thursday night, and scored a success. Regret was expressed because of the absence of Bucky O'Neill, but that fact did not detract from the fervor of the party's supporters, and they gave their candidates for Council-at-large, Mr. G. W. Woy, a fine reception. The band never played with more spirit; the detonation of giant powder awoke the echoes in the hills, and a bonfire made the surroundings luminous. The Republicans, who had the Rink engaged for a free dance, very generously gave the Populists the use of the hall for their meeting.

A dozen or more of the faithful occupied seats on the platform, and Mr. M. W. Bremen, chairman of the meeting, spoke briefly and introduced

Mr. Woy, who is pleasing in appearance and an earnest talker. His speech was almost exclusively upon the national banks and the silver question, and to the banks and the demonetization of silver he laid most of the evils and stagnation of business prevailing at the present time. The national banks, he said, were cunningly devised by a money syndicate and had usurped the power to issue money, alone belonging to the federal government. He alleged that this syndicate had gradually gained control of both the old political parties and that demonetization was accomplished by the same power.

Arguing that money did not necessarily possess intrinsic value, and that the stamp of the government gave it value, Mr. Woy, fell into error by asserting that under the Constitution of the United States, the stamp of the government on paper made it of equal value with coin as a circulating medium. The Constitution nowhere delegates the power to issue paper money, and a power not expressly granted, is withheld. Par. 5, of Section 8, declares that Congress shall have power, "to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin," and Par. 1, Sec. 10, provides, among other things, that no State shall "make any thing but gold and silver coin a tender in payment for debts."

Opposition to corporations is one of the cardinal principles of the People's Party. Their denunciation is entirely too sweeping, and serves to inflame an unreasonable prejudice. Corporations and aggregations of capital are necessary to the development and prosperity of our country and its industries, and without them the West would be a wilderness. The interests of capital and labor are largely mutual and they must remain dependent upon each other.

A "HAYSEED" SPEAKS.

SALT RIVER, A. T., Oct. 25, 1894. EDS. SILVER BELT.—The hayseeds are beginning to wake up. We are thinking it is time for us to take part in affairs political, so far at least as they relate to our immediate interests. We believe that the business of this country has been administered in an extravagant and reckless manner, and we think that some of our officials have sought to gratify vindictive spite at the expense of the country.

We are confident that through the imperfection of our laws, our county officers are protected in making exorbitant and unreasonable charges and we think there are various and enormous leakages which more careful, more conscientious and more economical men could check. The expense of our criminal courts seems to be as needless as it is enormous. Is there not a way to avoid these eternal continuances and failures? Is it not possible to facilitate and end these trials and at the same time insure perfect justice?

We want men for the Assembly and Council who are active, alert and able; whose capacity and integrity can not be impeached or questioned; men who are from amongst us and part of us; who are thoroughly identified with us and withal, men who can not be readily imposed on by any specious and false legislation.

In all the offices we want men in whom there is no question of honesty and competency, and who are vitally interested in the financial condition of the county. I appeal to you, voters and tax-payers of Gila county! Look to your men, and fling away all lesser considerations! Why did one-half of the present property valuation suffice in former years for the county government, and that at a much lower rate per centum?

Are we at the mercy of our officials, our servants? Can we not call a halt? We certainly can and we must.

A HAYSEED.

TO THE VOTERS OF GILA COUNTY.

GENTLEMEN:—I have been nominated by the Republican County Convention for the office of District Attorney, without solicitation on my part and, also, have received numerous letters from individuals of both parties, of your county, requesting me to accept the nomination, and promising me their earnest support.

While it is impossible for me to make a thorough canvass of the county, as is customary, because of affairs that require my attention just now at home, and also, because I am unable financially to expend any money in seeking the office, I do however, accept the nomination as tendered me, and take this method of informing you that I would earnestly ask you to consider the matter carefully, irrespective of party, and if you believe that I could administer the duties of the office satisfactorily to the citizens of your county, then I would ask for your assent, and I promise you that in the event of being elected, I will strictly attend to the duties of the office, as is required.

Respectfully yours,
